Quality Health Care for the poor

572. SHRI SANTOSH BAGRODIA:
SHRI HARISH RAWAT:
SHRI R.K. ANAND:

Will the Minister of HEALTH AND FAMILY WELFARE be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that the wealthy and affluent middle class only afford quality private health care and health care offers ample opportunities for investment; and

(b) if so, the action Government propose to take to offer quality health care to masses?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HEALTH AND FAMILY WELFARE (SHRIMATI PANABAKA LAKSHMI): (a) and (b) Health is a State subject, however, achieving an acceptable standard of good health amongst the general population of the country continues to be the main objective of the Government's health policy. Under the National Common Minimum Programme the Governemnt plans to increase the public expenditure on health sector from 0.9% of GDP to 2-3% of GDP over the next 5 years with focus on primary health care. Health care infrastructure in many states is being strengthened with external assistance to improve the health care services for the people in the rural areas. A number of National health Programmes are also being implemented for control of major diseases like Malaria, TB, Blindness, Leprosy, and AIDS, To improve public health services and delivery of quality care, a National Rural Health Mission (NRHM) has been envisaged, which will cover the following activities to provide quality health care to rural poor: (i) to provide quality health and family welfare services for the entire country specially to rural poor by increasing their accessibility to both public and private health institutions arranged through accreditation of private nursing homes. (ii) providing the services of Accredited Social Health Activists (ASHA) at village level in a phased manner and also providing essential drug kit at sub-centre. (iii) Strengthening of rural poor health infrastructure. (iv) Upgrading 2000 Community Health Centres to the level of Indian Public Health Standards (IPHS). (v) Strengthening of existing Sub-Centres by providing united funds.
